LINDSAY LOHAN

In 'Denial' About Jail

Lohan and ex Samantha Ronson dined out in Beverly Hills on July 11.

Lohan's apartment "is filled with cards and flowers" from well-wishers, according to an insider.

Lohan's former lawyer Holley comforted her in court July 6.

Lohan is sure she'll avoid the slammer

LINDSAY LOHAN HAS DRIED THOSE courthouse tears! A source says Lohan, 24 — who wept in L.A. Superior Court July 6 after judge Marsha Revel sentenced her to 90 days in jail and 90 days in rehab for violating the terms of her DUI probation — is convinced she won't have to serve any time at all. Though the actress was ordered to begin her sentence July 20, "she thinks something will happen and she won't end up having to go," continues the source. The insider adds that Lohan is still looking for a lawyer to replace attorney Shawn Chapman Holley, who quit two days after the ruling. (But former L.A. deputy district attorney Decio Rangel Jr. tells Us that though the case can be appealed, "it is highly unlikely the result would change.") A second source says Lohan is in "total denial" about her fate and is "bitching that the whole thing is so unfair — but is secretly loving the attention." In the meantime, she's keeping busy at her West Hollywood apartment. "Lindsay has been watching movies, baking brownies, cruising the internet and doing her nails," says the source. The actress has also taken up painting. "She does self-portraits," the first source says. "She has been experimenting with paint to get the perfect color of her tan."

Paltrow first became friends with Madonna in 1999.

Gwyneth Mingles With Madge's Ex

WELL, THIS CERTAINLY won't bring them any closer! Hot Stuff reported in early June that Gwyneth Paltrow and Madonna's decadelong friendship had hit a rough patch. And though they were photographed together at a dinner hosted by Diane von Furstenberg on June 23, Paltrow seems to have snubbed her onetime BFF again. A source says that when the actress, 37, threw a party with hubby Chris Martin at their home in London's Primrose Hill area on June 26, Madge, 51, was missing from the guest list. Meanwhile, the singer's ex Guy Ritchie, 41, was one of the attendees — and he brought a female guest! Still, the insult may not have been intentional. A different source says, "Chris always got along with Guy."

Ritchie and Madonna split in 2008.

"Drew seems totally into him," an insider says of Barrymore's beau.

DREW BARRYMORE New Dude!

SHE'S JUST NOT THAT INTO HIM — again! Drew Barrymore has found a new man after breaking things off — for the second time! — with ex-boyfriend Justin Long, 32. The actress, 35, who dated Long from August 2007 to July 2008 and reunited with him in March 2009, is seeing ABC exec Cort Cass. "Drew and Cort have been out six times or so," a Cass pal tells Hot Stuff of the duo, who met at an L.A. party. Adds a second source, "They were hanging out on July 2 and were very lovey-dovey." While Barrymore's rep says they're "just friends," Cass is certainly the hipster-loving actress' type! The 2003 Harvard grad, who's in comedy development at ABC, is "this skinny, 5-foot-6 redhead, but he's perfected a whole persona — a manufactured confidence," says the Cass pal.
